

SMALL TALK

Cr Cameron Caldwell is probably rueing the fact that he was unable to make the Red Shield breakfast. On hearing that he was not in attendance an unofficial fine of $500 was levied by Tony Hickey and then upon hearing that there had been no apology for not arriving, he doubled it to a $1000. Speaking of Tony a rather amazing statistic was disclosed. He has been the chairman of the local Red Shield Appeal for 15 years and in that time the staggering sum of around $4 million has been raised. We take our hats off to Tony - that is one persuasive man.

Have you got some gossip for Coast Weekend's Small Talk? Email coastweekend@news.com.au